Hints & Tips

How to get the best out of forward ordering

- Access ranges directly through the homepage or navigate through category drop down
- Advice is to place any forward orders in separate baskets from any immediate orders
- If multiple date drops are required, you will have to place separate orders for each date required
- Anything showing as a back order will be delivered as soon as allocated, as opposed to your requested date
- Any non buys or dropped lines will be communicated to you following our actual buy
- All dates provided are open to movement
